HONORED THE DEAD AT CHATTANOOGA

NATION'S HEROES REMEMBERED AT CHICAMAUGA.

State Monuments Dedicated In the New National Park—The City Crowded With Distinguished Visitors—Prominent Men Deliver Addresses—Officers To Be Elected Saturday

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 19—At early dawn yesterday, the tens of thousands of people in this region, natives and visitors began to bestir themselves. By sunrise hundreds were on the streets, and before 8 o'clock every thoroughfare in the city was thronged. Not since the bloody battle that occurred here thirty-three years ago has there been so many people in this region. Some of the old veterans who fought all over the grandly beautiful mountains and valleys surrounding Chattanooga say there are more people to-day than during that event. Estimates as to the size of the multitude vary. Some of the conservatives say there are not over 50,000 and others place the number at 100,000 or more. A large number of special policemen were on duty and there was no congestion or blockades to speak of. At the battlefield were hundreds of vehicles of every sort and description, prepared to carry passengers to any part of the historic field.

Chattanooga had last night as her guests four of the president's official family: Secretary of the Interior Hoke Smith, Secretary of the Navy Herbert, Attorney General Harmon and Postmaster General Wilson.

The first event of the day was the dedication of the Michigan state monuments at Snodgrass hill, a point at which there was probably more hard fighting during the battle than on any part of the field. Gov. John T. Rich, with his staff and the members of the park commission arrived at the hill a few minutes after 9 o'clock. Gov. Rich delivered the dedication speech. In the northeast corner of that part of the Kelly field, the monuments of Wisconsin were turned over to the government at 11 o'clock. The veterans of Ohio took possession of Snodgrass hill as soon as those from Michigan had finished. Gen. John Beatty, president of the Ohio commission, presided. Gov. McKinley delivered the dedication speech.

Illinois monuments were dedicated on the site where Widow Glenn's house stood during the battle. It is a few hundred yards southeast of the famous "Bloody Pond." The widow's house was burned during the fight, but "Bloody Pond" is still there. It was so named because its waters were red with human blood after the battle, and the people living in the vicinity say that since that terrible day, animals have refused to drink of it.

When Gov. Altgeld and his party arrived several thousand people, principally from Illinois or those who had served in Illinois regiments, were there to witness the ceremonies. Col. H. S. Reeves Post of the Illinois commission called the meeting to order. Prayer was offered, after which Gov. Altgeld was introduced and made his address turning the monuments over to the govment. Responses were made by Smith D. Atkins and Col. J. G. Everest. The benediction was then pronounced.

The exercises attendant upon the transfer of the Indiana monuments to the government took place at Lytle hill, as the ridge south of the Dyer Col. I. N. Walker, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, house is called in memory of Gen. Lytle, who was killed there. It is a short distance north of the Widow Glenn's house. Gen. Lew Wallace and Col. I. N. Walker, commander-in-chief spoke. The exercises were concluded with a salute fired by the regiments of the Indiana militia that were present.

The army of the Cumberland held the first session of its reunion at the court house in the morning at 9 o'clock. Gen. James Morgan of Illinois, the first vice-president, presided in the absence of the president, Gen. W. S. Rosecrans. It was purely a business session. The work consisted of the reports of the officers and committees. At night there was a meeting at the big tent of the custom house, when Gen. C. F. Manderson of Nebraska delivered the annual address. Lieut.-Gen. J. M. Schofield, Gen. G. M. Dodge of the army of Tennessee and others also spoke.

The meeting then adjourned. It was announced that the society would hold a business meeting to elect officers Saturday morning.

HARD ON SILVERITES.

Nominees of the Party in Nebraska Must Be Petition Candidates.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 19.—Under a decision of the supreme court, rendered shortly after the bolt of the state democratic convention a year ago, the secretary of state must file the first certificate of nomination received from the state chairman of a party convention for printing the regular state tickets. The chairman of the silver faction has filed no certificate, while the Cleveland democrats, by their chairman, have filed their certificate of nomination of T. J. Mahoney for supreme judge. The effect of this will be that the nominee of the silver convention can go before the voters only as a petition candidate, and not as the nominee of the regular democratic convention of the state. This oversight on the part of the silver people has caused a sensation. It is stated on hight authority that Chairman Harrity has promised the Cleveland democrats of Nebraska that their delegates to the national convention will be admitted to the exclusion of the silver men.

SETBACK FOR IRRIGATION.

Nebraska's Supreme Court Renders an Important Decision.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 19.—The supreme court yesterday handed down a decision which in effect declares the irrigation law passed by the last legislature is unconstitutional in so far as it permits the utilization of water in all rivers and streams in the state. The enactment of previous legislatures on the same subject is included in the decision, and in the opinion of Senator W. F. Akers, the framer of the irrigation law, it virtually kills all irrigation projects in the state. By this decison, according to Mr. Akers, the simple objection of a mill owner is sufficient to close any of the ditches now operated in the arid regions.

MORE DETAILS FROM INDIANPOLIS

The Total Loss From Yesterday's Fire Will Aggregate $554,000.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 19.—Half a million dollars in buildings and merchandise went up in flames and smoke yesterday as the result of one of the most disastrous and stubborn fires in the history of Indianapolis, and parts of several blocks, including some of the finest buildings in the city, are in ruins, or badly damaged. Valuable stocks had to be flooded with water, to an enormous loss, to prevent their total destruction and a wider spread of the fire.

The fire started at 6 o'clock on the third floor of the five-story stone and brick building on Washington street, between Meridian and Pennsylvania streets, owned by A. B. Pettis and occupied by Eastman, Schleicher & Co. It soon had great headway, and all the resources of the city fire department were at once called into play to combat what was certain to prove a disastrous blaze. In spite of the quick work and hard fighting of the firemen the flames spread rapidly, and it was several hours before they were sufficiently under control to quiet fears that the entire business district might be burned.

Following are the buildings entirely burned or badly damaged: A. B. Pettis building, five stories, occupied by Eastman, Schleicher & Co. with a china and furniture store; Indiana National Bank building; Condit building, five stories, occupied by Western Union Company; Pacific Express building, four stories; George Maunfeld building, three stories; Blackford building, four stories, occupied by the American Express Company, Boston Clothing Company, etc.; Mayer Stencil Company building, three stories; A. B. Pettis building, six stories, occupied by dry goods store.

The Indiana Bank building is completely wrecked. The banking-room had recently been remodeled at a cost of about $60,000.

The great vault in the Indiana National bank, which is situated in the rear of the building and fronting on Pearl street, contains nearly $2,000,000 in cash. The flames licked clean everything around it, but the money is believed to be safe.

The fire in the Western Union building was placed under control about 9:30 a. m. The instruments in the operating room were destroyed and the battery floor, just above, was burned away. The Flire building was water-soaked and the many offices were damaged in various sums. The two buildings that are totally wrecked are the Eastman, Schleicher & Co. block and the Indiana National bank building. The first named stood a shell after the fire had been extinguished and that and the bank building will be pulled down. The Postal Telegraph building, in the rear of the Blackford block, was slightly damaged by fire and water, but the company has lost no wires.

The total loss on stock, fixtures and effects will amount to $357,000. The loss on buildings aggregates about $97,000, giving a total loss of $454,000.

Evidence has come to light which indicates that the fire may have been the result of a malicious piece of incendiarism. The man upon whom there appears to have been a determination to wreak vengeance is W. H. Eastman, senior member of the firm of Eastman, Schleicher & Lee, whose losses aggregate $175,000. He was threatened by an enemy several days ago. The name of the man who made the treat is Hagarty, and he has served one or more terms in the penitentiary. The theory is he made his way into the basement of the Eastman, Schleicher & Lee store, easy, and applied the torch.

EXPOSITION OPENED.

Immense Crowd Attends Exercises at Atlanta's Big Fair.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 19.—The Cotton States and International Exposition was opened yesterday in the presence of an assemblage which included most of the prominent men whose names are household words in the south. The attendance at the initiatory exercises was very large. Atlanta and the towns around declared the day a holiday and all observed it by going to the exposition. The gates were opened early in the morning and the people began to pour into the grounds. Every southerner feels a personal pride in the success of the exposition. So Atlanta was en fete. The city was decorated gorgeously. Flags were flying from every prominent building and the fronts of hundreds of houses were decorated with bunting. At several points the principal streets were spanned with arches, gay in their dress of brilliant colored ornament. When Gilmore's band began the "Salute to Atlanta" there was gathered before the main building of the exposition a crowd estimated to number 100,000 persons. The opening ceremonies began with the performance of the "Salute to Atlanta," composed by Victor Herbert. Then the gentlemen and ladies who were to take part in the exercises grouped themselves on the platform erected opposite the door of the main building. Prayer was offered and then President Collier, of the exposition, delivered an address.

He had not been at his home for a month before the day of the tragedy.

RECEPTION BY W. H. SARGENT POST

Dr. J. B. Whiting and E. O. Kimberley Honored By Their Comrades.

A reception that all enjoyed was given at W. H. Sargent Post hall last evening, it being in honor of Surgeon General J. B. Whiting and E. O. Kimberley, the "soldier singer" and state delegate to the Louisville encampment. C. D. Child acted as master of ceremonies and called on E. O. Kimberley who read a n interesting paper descriptive of the great encampment. He told of the war time memories awakened by the journey through the south; of the attentions showered on the boys in blue by the boys in grey and the people who were once the nation's enemies; of the great parade and the encampment proper. In referring to Dr. Whiting he said:

"To all Wisconsin people we may say with more than ordinary emphasis that no mistake was made in the election of our own much esteemed citizen and comrade, Dr. J. B. Whiting, for surgeon general. The Badger delegation went down as a unit in his interest; and while others were in the field for a time, the fact soon became apparent that to oppose him would prove of no avail. Personally, and representing my own home, and that of the doctor, it gave me great pleasure to work for him from beginning to end. The great convention hall was filled with printed matter given by myself to the comrades as they passed in and out. His election (by acclamation) was even more than we expected. All honor then, to our efficient and most worthy comrade, Dr. J. B. Whiting, to whom tonight we have the pleasure of offering our heartiest congratulations. We venture the assertion that among the twenty-eight surgeon generals that have preceded him from among the gallant Grand Army, that none have discharged the responsibilities of that office in a better and more efficient manner than will be said of Dr. Whiting when the term of his office shall expire—one year hence.

In referring to himself, Mr. Kimberley was very modest, dismissing the matter of the high honors conferred on him, in the following brief paragraph: "As for myself, I sang by invitation, at three different camp fires, and was received with veritable ovation, and together with my wife, we were met by the most hospitable hands, and shall not soon forget it."

Dr. Whiting was then called on, and made one of his characteristic speeches, which was enthu iastica ly applauded. A strong plea for the Woman's Relief Corps was made by Mrs. M. B. Miltimore, and remarks were also made by J. C. Bartholf and Past Commander W. G. Palmer. Three cheers were then given for Dr. Whiting and Mr. Kimberley, and the meeting broke up.

LIBERAL WITH CLINTON'S Y. M. C. A.

Banker A. Woodard Makes Them an Excellent Proposition in Regard to Rooms

A. Woodard, the Clinton banker, has made the Y. M. C. A. of that village a very liberal proposition for starting reading rooms. He offers to give them the use of the second story of his block, and fit it up with table, bath, gymnasium appliances, etc., and give them the rent for $150 per year. It now remains for those interested to see whether the expenses for rent and janitor can be met.

What His Stylish Hat Cost.

"Can you afford to wear $5 hats in your business?" asked one young man of another this morning.

"That's no five-dollar hat" said the wearer. "It cost me just three."

"Oh, don't cover up your extravagance. You can buy a good quality of hat for three dollars, I know, but you can't get the fall style, and the style was what I noticed about yours."

The talk all came from a departure made by Manager Smith in the Ziegler hat department this year. The Oliver hat, which was put on sale today in fall shapes, is a high grade hat, such as city dealers sell for $3.50 and $4, and it duplicates exactly the approved blocks of the season. It makes possible the wearing of fashionable headgear without paying "fashionable" prices. The man in the Oliver hat has the satisfaction of knowing that his friends can't tell but what he paid five dollars. The Oliver opening began at Ziegler's today and will last tomorrow and Saturday. The blocks shown are the Knox and Dunlap, which have proven most popular this fall. A Knox or a Dunlap hat at $3 is reason enough, why the Oliver hat should make a stir.

FEW COLTS GAMBOL IN COUNTY FIELDS

YOUNG HORSES NOT MUCH IN EVIDENCE THESE DAYS.

The Decrease In the Number Raised Is Remarkable—Sheep, Too, Are Scarce, as Wool at Ten Cents a Pound Is a Losing "Crop"—Other County News.

Tiffany, Sept. 19—The decrease in the number of colts raised is remarkable. One hardly sees a young colt in passing through the country. It is about the same with sheep, and the Merino, of which La Prairie used to boast of some splendid flocks, is about extinct. Wool at ten cents doesn't pay. A few mutton herds can be found. Our grain dealer has orders for a large amount of good barley, but farmers refuse to sell at present prices. Farmers, when ready to sell, will do well to send a sample here. Much sickness of a cholera morbus type is prevalent, with an occasional case of typhoid fever. The corn crop may be considered fairly safe from frost. One of the prettiest and neatest country stores in the county can be found in the village of Shopiere. It is the result of the energy and business qualities of its proprietor, Charles Warrick, and does him credit. Edward Hopkins has his paint shop moving at hard time prices. Ed. wears the iron brigade cross by right of his service in the Seventh Wisconsin from its formation. Of him, his captain, Alex. Gordon, said: "We think the Seventh Wisconsin as brave as any regiment in the brigade, and my company as good as any in the regiment, and Hopkins has shown as much bravery as any man in my company." The types last week made Tiffany butter export some 40,000 pounds more than it was. It should have been 4,500; but for the home demand on our creameries this would have exceeded 6,000, but perhaps the compositor was only anticipating a little. The two creameries are now handling over 20,000 pounds of milk, and it is increasing. D. Q. Starks has about finished shedding a field of nine acres of tobacco, the best crop he has raised in five years. Rev. Mr. Barbour has resigned the pastorate of the Congregational church, to take effect in October. There will be an administrator's sale of all live stock and tools of the late M. O. Van Galder, on his farm September 24, 1895, at 10 a. m. sharp. This is probably one of the largest auctions that will occur in this section, and the stock will bear investigation.

THE NEWS OF EMERALD GROVE

Many Hogs Are Dying—Prizes Won at the Fair.

Emerald Grove, Sept. 19—Many of the Emerald Grove farmers are now losing a large number of hogs from something that looks like cholera. Theodore Hansen will soon move into one of E. M. Ransom's houses two miles east of here. A light rain fell here on Sunday afternoon. Among those who will view the fair at Milwaukee from here are Mr. and Mrs. E. H. and E. N. Ransom. A party composed of James Lamb, W. J. Jones, Wallace Lamb and James McFarlane will make the distance overland. The trip will recall to their minds stories told by some of the older boys. Emerald Grove brought back from the county fair a few prizes, Bay Boynton taking two firsts and one second. First on Polled Durhams classed with Durhams, he being the first polled Durham ever shown in the Badger state. He was well spoken of by all who saw him. Mr. Boynton brought home blue ribbons with his Partridge Cochins. Arthur Boynton resumed his studies at Beloit college on Wednesday. Miss Laverna Gillies commenced a course of study also. Tuesday of last week and Tuesday of this week were two warm days, 95 degrees of heat is plenty for September. At sundown on September 10 it was 87 degrees above with a warm wind which is something unusual. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Johnstone of Chicago, enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lilburn this week. Mr. Johnstone is connected with the editorial staff of the Horseman. Some one stole a good stack canvass from J. A. McArthur last Sunday night. Get your fall cheese from G. & J. only ten cents per pound.

FIXING UP INDIAN FORD'S MILL

Mr. Norcross Plans to Build a Power House—Other News Notes.

Indian Ford, Sept. 19—P. Norcross, of Janesville, is making some extensive repairs on his mill here and will build a power house to furnish Janesville with electric lights. George Lackner is putting a basement under his barn. S. C. Thomas was one of the delegates chosen by this lodge to go to the district lodge at Whitewater. E. Stone has made some needed repairs on our school house steps. Quite a number of the Ford people visited Rock County fair this year. Mr. and Mrs. Hurd visited Milwaukee last Tuesday. M. N. Walwrath of southeast Fulton took in she sights at the state fair Wednesday and Thursday. Miss Clara Walrath visited Janesville Wednesday.

THAT AWFUL PALPITATION.

Short Breath, Dizzy, Faint, Sinking Feelng.

They Mean that You Have Weak Heart and Weak Nerves.

Heart Failure and Sudden Death Sure Unless You Do the Right Thing Now.

Failure or weakness of heart action is very prevalent. It is a most serious and dangerous condition to be in. The first symptoms may be very slight and apparently trivial.

But do not fail to heed them if you value your life. The warnings are plain and unmistakable.

Nervousness and weakness, swimming of the head, strange, faint feelings, trembling, short breath, sinking sensation, coldness of feet and legs, fluttering or palpitation in left side of the chest, feeling of apprehension or anxiety as of impending danger, drowsiness daytimes, sleeplessness at night.

A little over-exertion, excitement or emotion may bring on the attack, at any time. Sudden rising from a stooping or reclining position will cause dizziness and rapidly climbing stairs will make the heart palpitate, produce weariness and shortness of breath. In some cases there are pains in the region of the heart, but in most cases there is no pain whatever.

Neglect of these symptons will result in heart failure, spasms of the heart or death.

Mrs. C. S. Allen, a widely known lady of 128 Pearl St. Portland, Maine, suffered fearfully from these symptons. She got cured in the following way:

"For the benefit of suffering humanity," she says, "I wish to testify in regard to the virtues of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. For eight years I had been suffering from palpitation of the heart. I had terrible pains in the limbs, no appetite, and however slowly I went up stairs, I would get all out of breath, and would have to sit down immediately until I recovered my breath.

"My heart beat so fast it seemed as though it would stop. There was hardly any more color in my face and hands than in chalk. The least exertion was an effort. There was hardly anything I could eat or keep on my stomach, it was so terribly weak.

"After paying hundreds of dollars for doctors and medicines without receiving any lasting benefit, I commenced taking Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

"Before I had taken half a bottle, I saw that it was a wonderful medicine and different from anything I had ever taken. I began to improve immediately, and continued to gain in every respect.

"After taking two bottles, I felt like a new being. My heart was all right, I was not short of breath and my palpitation left me. My food digested well, and I could eat anything. I was perfectly and permanently cured. It was marvelous the way that medicine acted.

"Only those suffering as I was, and obtaining relief as I did, can realize my feelings. I can truly say that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy saved my life. I heartily recommend it to everybody."

If you are suffering from weak heart, weak nerves or any similar complaint, take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It will cure you and give you perfect health. These troubles are especially dangerous and must in all cases be cured immediately, or fatal results will follow.

Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. Dr. Greene of 35 West 14th street, New York city. He has the largest practice in the world, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that his medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by any one at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of the wonderful medicine.

"CURES" DON'T CURE THE HOG CHOLERA

DISEASE MAKING INROADS IN COUNTY HERDS.

Remedies That Were Successful In Former Years Do Not Do the Work This Season—Raisers Keep the Facts Secret In Hopes of Selling Off Their Healthy Animals.

Hog cholera is still raging in Rock county.

Farmers are keeping "mum" about it, in hopes of selling off their stock before the herds are attacked by the disease, but nevertheless, many porkers are dying every day. The disease is said to be causing considerable loss to farmers living south of the city, more especially below the school for the blind and toward Afton.

"We have tried every known remedy," said a prominent farmer from that section this morning, "but so far without avail. So far the disease has been simply invincible, and remedies that have worked successfully in years past, have failed utterly. The loss sustained in my section of the county will reach a good many hundred dollars, already, and the plague is a little more than holding its own against all possible precautions. The hogs will be apparently well one day and the next you will find them deathly sick. Unless a powerful purgative can be made to take immediate effect, the time of the porker has come, and you may as well dig its grave. The hog raisers all want to sell off their healthy stock as soon as possible thus saving what they can before the disease, which seems to be absolutely unconquerable, kills off their entire herds."

Reports from Emerald Grove are also to the effect that many hogs are dying in that vicinity from a disease that much resembles cholera, if indeed, it is not the genuine scourge itself.

"ALABAMA" A PATRIOTIC PLAY

Its Author, Augustus Thomas, Is the Red-White and Blue Playwright.

No American author now before the country has directed his sole intention toward American subjects as much as Augustus Thomas, the author of "Alabama." Mr. Thomas has in the space of five years given the theatre goers of the country food for thought in the production of his plays. He has not drawn upon the other nationalities for his comedies, but has taken it from home life. Mr. Thomas' successes have proven that the American public want plays dealing with American subjects, American characters and American comedy. He has demonstrated that this country affords as good an opportunity for the selection of competent material as does either England or France. "Alabama," which is undoubtedly the masterpiece of this young red-white and blue playwright, will be a favorite play long after Mr. Thomas has been gathered to his fathers.

FARMERS ARE RAISING ALFALFA.

It Yields Three Crops a Year and Is Excellent Food.

Rock county farmers may soon produce considerable quantities of alfalfa. James Waugh, who lives near Clinton, is experimenting with four acres this year, which now bids fair to be a good crop. Alfalfa throughout the west is their chief product in the way of hay. They figure on three crops or from five to six tons per acre and a good growth to plow under. It has a root about as long and in a dry season, longer than the growth upward.

CRICKET NOW ON TOP.

INTERNATIONAL GAMES HAVE OPENED IN EAST.

After the Series with New York the Cambridge Men Will Contest with the Pennsylvanians—Something About the Players.

THE team of cricketers from the universities of Oxford and Cambridge, which lately landed upon our shores, is expected to create sad havoc among New York cracks and their brethren of Philadelphia. The team came at the invitation of the Associated Cricket clubs of this country, and, with a knowledge of the game's progress in the United States, a team has been selected which forms a most powerful combination, and which the critics on the other side feel certain will do all required of it, that is, thrash the Yankees in most approved style.

The visitors, however, may not have so easy a task as expected. In New York, more particularly, the game has advanced considerably, and many think that a representative team of the metropolis would not come in second in a contest with the Quakers. The latter have always proved the most dangerous opponents encountered by visiting teams, the defeats inflicted upon Lord Hawke's first team and the Australians causing the foreigners to respect the skill of the Philadelphians.

The Englishmen this year will be captained by Frank Mitchell, an undergraduate of Cambridge, who, time and again, has proved himself the best all-round man at either of the two big universities in England. His batting this year had much to do with the victory of his side in the inter-'varsity match, and his bowling has been responsible for the downfall of many of the best batsmen in England. The other members of the team are Norman F. Druce, considered the most stylish and scientific batsman in England, and who has been given a place on the champion county team; C. E. M. Wilson, one of the best bowlers of the eleven; W. McG. Hemmingway, a powerful hitter and most vigorous player; H. H. Marriott, W. W. Lowe, J. J. Robinson, W. Mortimer, R. A. Studd, V. T. Hill, F. A. Phillips, H. A. Arkwright, and J. C. Hartley.

N. F. DRUCE.

The committee with the match in charge has selected the following players to represent New York:

Howard MacNutt (captain), F. T. Short, A. E. Patterson, R. T. Rokely, and Lohmann, of Staten Island C. C.; M. R. Cobb, F. F. Kelly and Tyers, of the New Jersey A. C.; J. Rose and J. Mart, of the Manhattans, and F. J. Prendergast, of the Brooklyns. Substitutes, C. Byers, New Jersey A. C.; J. L. Pool, Staten Island, and J. A. Adam, Manhattan.

This should prove a powerful team, and it certainly has an able captain in command. H. MacNutt has acted in the position before, and his experience of international matches is not possessed by any of the other players. For bowlers he has M. R. Cobb, F. F. Kelly, H. MacNutt, J. Mart, Tyers and Lohmann. These six men are all capable of good work, and might be taken in the order here given for their standing in New York.

CAPT. FRANK MITCHELL.

J. Rose will keep the wickets, and there is no doubt that he will do good work in this trying position. He is one of those men who rise to occasions, and the harder the match the better he is sure to play. All the men cat bat fairly well, and if the vigorous Rokely can get his eye in, the fielders are likely to be given an idea of what hot American "grounders" are. The Staten Island giant hits with force possessed by few men, his forward driving to the off being some of the prettiest play witnessed in New York this season. All the other men are worth runs, if they can only preserve their nerve. In matches of this description some batsmen are out before they get to the wickets, either the spectators or the reputation of their opponents causing a state of nervousness which is fatal to the best batsmen.

After the game in New York the Englishmen will meet the University of Pennsylvania on the grounds of the Philadelphia C. C. at Wissahickon. This should prove one of the most interesting games of the tour, for not alone will it be an international contest, but it will be an inter-university game as well. It is certainly a feather in the cap of "Old Penn" to be able to place a team in the field fit to cope with Cambridge. No other college in the country could do it, and the Pennsylvanians are to be congratulated on their progress with the game. The fact that cricket is steadily advancing in our institutions of learning is a matter for congratulation among the votaries of the game, among whom the recent victory of American over Canadian colleges was a pleasant surprise.

Of course, the visitors will meet the gentlemen of Philadelphia, and here will come their hardest game. At one time it was thought that two English teams would be here at the same time, playing against two Philadelphia teams on the same day, but all this has now been changed, and the Quakers will be able to get out their best eleven to face the visitors. The first game will be played on the grounds of the Germantown C. C. at Manheim, Friday, Saturday, Monday, Sept. 20, 21 and 23, and the second at Haverford, on the grounds of the Merion C. C., on the following Friday, Saturday and Monday, Sept. 27, 28 and 30.

The visits of these foreign teams always arouse interest and enthusiasm in the game, and as they come earlier this year, the visit should even be of more benefit than heretofore.

J. ELINGER CLARKE.

Geneva's Great Fountain.

The fountain that the municipality of Geneva has recently established at the entrance of the port of that city is certainly the largest fountain that exists upon the surface of the globe, since it is no less than 300 feet in height. It may be seen from a great distance in clear weather, detaching itself like a great white sail flapping through the effects of the wind. The city of Geneva possesses a most complete distribution of water under pressure, the motive power for which is obtained from an artificial fall established upon the Rhone at the point of the lake. The water for domestic purposes and for the running of certain motors is raised to a height of 215 feet above the level of the lake. For the distribution of motive force it is raised to a height of 460 feet. The reservoir is an open-air one, and is situated upon the top of Bessingers, at a distance of three miles from the turbine building. A very ingenious regulator, invented by Mr. Turrettini, assures the uniformity of pressure in the piping. The lengh of the first pipe line is about forty miles, and that of the second about sixty. It is with this latter that the fountain conduit is connected. The latter is set in play only on Sundays. It is sometimes set in operation also on week days, in the evening. Instead of a single jet of great height, several are then utilized that do not rise so high. Powerful electric light projectors, placed in a structure near by, brightly illuminate them with their rays of varied colors, which transform them into a luminous fountain of the most beautiful aspect.

British Art Students.

The works of the students in the British national competition of schools of art, which have been selected by the examiners for rewards, are this year set out in the exhibition road galleries, adjacent to the machinery galleries, and opposite to the school of science. We are told in the catalogue that the surprising number of 47,978 works of all kinds, from schools of art and branch schools, were sent up for examination, 4,044 being selected out of these for national competition, and the final awards being made by the examiners out of this last selection. It is again in the branches of purely decorative art, pictorial and sculptural, rather than in painting, sculpture and architecture proper—that is, in the minor rather than the major art— that the students show excellence.

TARIFF CHANGES.

There will be tariff changes when republicans come into power—there must be, or the sale of bonds to meet a constantly increasing deficit must be kept up. What the changes will be, however, cannot be prophesied. John Sheman's remark the other day that the republican tariff will be "the McKinley law, with such changes as time may make necessary," was intended as a compliment to Ohio's favorite son. Translated into popular language, this means that the new tariff will be the McKinley law, with modifications that will make it radically different. No republican, not even its author, ever wants a tariff closely resembling that act again. McKinley in congress now would be an anti-McKinley man if such a measure should come up. Both revenue and protection can be, and will be, provided by the republicans on other lines than those laid down in the law of 1890.

TARIFF LESSON IN BELOIT.

Oscar T. Thompson, of Beloit, has received a letter from England that tells a significant story about the effect of the Wilson tariff. Let the business man who remembers trade conditions in this country up to election time last fall read this extract: "The prospects of improved trade which was being talked about when we saw you and of which you speak of in your letter, have indeed proved true, and I am pleased to be able to say that never has the town of Bradford been so busy in rapidly turning out its manufactures for fifteen to twenty years. I see by the returns of the United States consul in Bradford, which are just published for July, that the exports to your country alone are nearly trebled compared with last July, 1894. The month just closed has formed a record in high amounts for the trade between this town and the United States which I hope will soon be broken."

IN THE SYNDICATE'S HANDS.

No republican administration has ever been compelled to trust to a combination of bankers to maintain the credit of the country. It was left for Mr. Cleveland to set the example. There was no precedent for the financial department's being placed absolutely at the mercy of a few powerful banking establishments. Even during the civil war the government was not forced into any such dependent and humiliating position as this, for while it did in that period of terrible stress require the support and assistance of the banking interests of the country, at no time was the national treasury virtually in the control of half a dozen banking firms, and some of these foreign firms, as is now the case.

While our democratic brethren are looking for a state chairman they should cast their eyes toward Janesville. We have a modest Janesville editor—a man six feet and several in his stocking-feet—who can give Milwaukeans a good many hints on organization. Don't lose sight of P. J. Mouat.

Janesville people raised sixty-eight cents to save the heathen in Africa. This ought to mean that a handsome reserve is left to save the heathen here at home.

The Whitney boom and the Colonel Bill Morrison boom have suffered from early frosts. Does David Bennett Hill know who left the green house door open?

Senator Roger Q. Mills switched over from free silver to sound money and is already mentioned for minister to Switzerland at a salary of $5000.

The Rock county farmers will market a good deal of their corn crop on the hoof this winter.

They tell about Mr. Cleveland being "sound on finance," but a president sound on finance should be able to keep up the nation's credit in time of peace without bond sales.

The democratic idea of saving has been to cut $2,000,000 off the pension rolls and add it to the bonus paid to the bond syndicate.

Chief Acheson is doing a good work in ridding the city of disreputable characters.

Several handsome senatorial booms are ripening in Madison hot-houses.

The next administration will not have a syndicate attachment.

DARKENED BY DEATH'S PALL.

Mrs. Elsie A. S. Eddy.

Mrs. Elsie A. S. Eddy died at her home in Turtle on September 13 in the fiftyfifth year of her age. Mrs. Eddy was born in Montgomery county N. Y., but her parents moved to Niagra county which was her home until 1863 when she came to Wisconsin. She was united in marriage to her late husband R. Eddy in 1862. From early youth she was a member of the Baptist church and for the past twenty years a member of the Clinton church. Her life was devoted to her home and to her children six of whom are living and were with her in her last hour. Although suffering intense physical pain her faith in the christian's God never wavered but sustained her in the last moments. Rev. Mr. Stubbert of Clinton preachvd the funeral services on Sept. 17 and her remains were laid by the side of her husband in the Shopiere cemetery.

A RELIABLE PILE CURE.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is the safest and surest pile cure on the market, because it contains no mineral poisons nor opium nor cocaine, but can be used with absolute safety and certainty of cure.

Many physicians are now using the Pyramid Pile Cure in place of surgical operations, being painless, convenient to use, and the patient can attend to his daily occupation while the cure is being made, as it is used at night and no additional treatment is necessary.

• Dr. Wharton says the Pyramid Pile Cure will prove a blessing to mankind, when it is remembered that heretofore a surgical operation was considered the only cure with all its danger to life, intense pain and an expense of from ten to one hundred dollars, to say nothing of the possible return of the trouble. The Pyramid Pile Cure is sold by druggists at 50 Cents and $1.00 and does the work quickly and safely.

A book on cause and cure of piles will be mailed free by addressing Pyramid Co., Albion, Mich.

PLUCKY LAD WALKED WHILE NEARLY DEAD

REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE OF FRANK ROOK.

Rather Than Expose His Mother to the Malignant Diphtheria With Which He Was Afflicted, He Attempted to Travel Four Miles On Foot—Fell By the Wayside.

Rather than expose his mother to diphtheria, seventeen year old Frank Rook, although sick enough to die, tried to walk four miles to his farm home.

Two hours later he was found beside the road with blood-soaked clothing, having fallen from exhaustion, and suffered a severe hemorrhage.

Now he is fighting the disease with chances good for his recovery, while the family are living in the barn so as not to get the scourge.

Young Rook is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Hyatt Rook who live on the Sexton farm four and a half miles from Janesville on the Evansville road. He had been complaining of not feeling well of late, but would not admit that he was sick. Finally his mother thought he had better see a doctor, and brought the lad to Janesville. After putting up the horses, he said that he would go and see a physician while she went to visit her mother, Mrs. Case, corner of Franklin and Center streets, and they parted. Rook went to Dr. Sutherland's office.

Had Malignant Diphtheria.

"Doctor, I am not feeling well" Rook said and it didn't take the physicians long to find out that he had told the truth.

"You have a very bad case of diphtheria," said the doctor and you must go straight home and go to bed."

Rook took this rather startling announcement cooly and said he would do so. Leaving the doctor's office he walked to the home of Mrs. Case, but refused to enter the house calling to them that he would walk home rather than to give the disease to his mother. They argued with him in vain, he declining positively to ride, and started out on foot. Then Mrs. Rook went to the doctor's office and found that the lad had told the truth. The doctor also told her of the danger the lad was in from attempting to walk home, so his mother hurried to overtake him. She did not meet him anywhere on the road home, and when she got home learned that he had not yet arrived. Then she was very much worried and retraced her steps in search of him, finally finding him beside the road, not far from the house, suffering from the hemorrhage. He was at once taken home and made comfortable in the house, while the family moved in the barn to evade contagion. At last accounts young Rook was doing nicely, as his pluck is something no ordinary disease can conquer.

Another Case of the Scourge.

The eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Crow, of the town of Janesville, who had been feeling ill, was brought to Dr. Edden's office for examination this afternoon, and the doctor at once pronounced the case diphtheria. The family did not know the nature of the disease, and were much alarmed when they learned its true name. A child of Mr. and Mrs. Crow died ten weeks ago, very suddenly, from what was supposed to be cholera infantum, but the Town Health Officer, Thomas Little, stated at the time that in his opinion, the disease was diphtheria. Dr. Edden at once notified Mr. Little of the present case.

Mrs. Charles Downing, who has been confined to her home in the town of Janesville, with the same disease, is reported as being much better.

Little Lydia, the thirteen-months' old child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buggs, 360 South Academy street, died early yesterday morning of diphtheria. Not until Sunday was the little one taken sick, but the pitiless disease did its work rapidly and death finally ended the babe's suffering. The interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery last evening, the services being stoictly private.

MADE ONE AT THE ALTAR.

Reeder-Sunkle.

Miss Marie M. Sunkle and Charles W. Reeder were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at eight o'clock last evening, by Rev. S. P. Wilder at the home of the brides' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sunkle on the Magnolia road. Misses Stella Bump, Anna Smith, Flora Bovee and Gladys Heddles, all of whom are schoolmates of the bride, sang, "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden" as the bridal party entered and took their places before a floral bank where the officiating clergyman was waiting. Then came the ceremony, after which congratulations were extended and the wedding supper served. Mr. and Mrs. Reeder will take no wedding trip but will settle down to housekeeping as soon as the residence that the groom is building on the Magnolia road is completed.

Both the bride and groom are well-known young people. Mrs. Reeder has been employed as a teacher in the public schools for the past five years and is a young lady universally loved and admired, while the groom is the electrician of the Janesville street railway, he having been a trusted employe of that company since the road was built.

WINANS & RUSSELL IT IS NOW.

New Law Firm Announced Today—Bennett Block Office Retained.

The formation of a new law firm was announced today, that of Winans & Russell. The office occupied is the one formerly belonging to Winans & Hyzer. The senior member of the firm ranks as one of the most prominent attorneys in the state and his name is widely known. Mr. Russell is a young man whose training in the state law school has been supplemented by two years of study abroad and who has demonstrated in his practice before the Janesville courts the possession of much ability. Last fall he was nominated by the democrats for district attorney and made an excellent showing, his thorough command of German proving at that time, as it has at many others, a decided advantage.

COAL PILE ON FIRE IN A BOILER ROOM

WISCONSIN CARRIAGE TOP CO'S. CLOSE CALL.

Two Car Loads of Slack Ignite Spontaneously In a Cellar And the Live Coals Ignite a Wooden Partition—An Hours Hard Work Required to Restore Safety.

Fire, slumbering under two carload of coal slack, ate its way to the wall of the Wisconsin Carriage Top Co's building last night. Engineer William Irwin smelled the smoke just as he was leaving the building, or today there would be nothing left but ruins.

The Carriage Top company laid in two car load of slack about two months ago. Engineer Irwin went to President Stalley a week or two later and said:

"That slack ought to be shoveled over or it will heat and catch fire."

Part of the slack was shoveled over at the time but no traces of heating developed.

Last evening about 6:30 as Irwin was washing up he noticed smoke on the windows of the boiler room. He went back a found a strong smell of burning coal coming from the slack pile.

Shovels Revealed Fire.

F. A. Vandewater and William Morris had not yet left the office and he ran up and called them. Shovels were used vigorously but the slack pile got hotter as the hole grew. At the bottom it was found that the pile was a mass of live coals.

Nor was the coal the only thing on fire. Creeping along under the pile the fire had reached a wooden wall, and a draught of smoke and hot air was rushing up between the studding. Hose was coupled and the boiler room was pretty well flooded before safety was reached. An hour's hard work was done in conquering the fire.

Adjoining the spot where the fire broke out was $400 worth of sawed lumber and a lot of excelsior for stuffing cushions. Up stairs the stock was all of a sort to burn readily. As it was, however, the loss was slight and was covered by insurance in Hazleton & Carter's agency.

J. M. BOSTWICK SUED BY A. R. RICARDSON

ANOTHER OF THE "LAND CASE" ACTIONS IS UNDER WAY.

Attorney Sloan Is Now In Milwaukee Looking Up United States Court Records and the Action, Proper, Will Be Begun At the Next Term of the Circuit Court.

Another suit in the "Richardson will case" series will be begun in the circuit court at its next sitting, and Attorney Henry S. Sloan is now in Milwaukee looking up the records.

J. M. Bostwick will be the defendant, and the claim is against the property now occupied as a store by J. M. Bostwick & Sons, on South Main street, and valued at $25,000.

The investigations of Attorney Sloan are being made in the United States court, and yesterday the deposition of Clerk Kurtz was taken to identify papers which were filed in collateral suits connected with the Richardson estate forty years ago.

The suit is entitled Adam R. Richardson vs. Joseph Bostwick et al., and is but one of similar actions, having been selected as a test case. The plaintiff is the youngest son of the late Daniel A. Richardson, one of the earliest settlers of Rock county. The question involved arises over an administrator's sale of land that was owned by Richardson. The estate was administered over forty years ago and the claim is now set up that all the proceedings in administration were void, for the reason that the court ordering the administration had no jurisdiction. Fraud is charged, in that the administrator bid in the property at the sale.

Daniel E. Richardson, the father of the plaintiff in this case, was one of the pioneer settlers of Rock county, and a well known figure in early Wisconsin history. Mr. Richardson was a contractor as well as farmer and built the first court house of Rock county, and also did part of the work on the first capital building at Madison. He died a very wealthy man, leaving real estate in Rock, Racine, Green and Iowa counties. It is the title to this property that is now in question, and the suit against Mr. Bostwick is but one of many either pending or to be brought later on.

Adam's Nurse.

A Sunday-school superintendent at the close of an address on the creation, which he was sure he had kept within the comprehension of the least scholars, smilingly invited questions, says the Amusing Journal.

A tiny boy, with a white, eager face and large brow, at once held up his hand.

"Please, sir, why was Adam never a baby?"

The superintendent coughed in some doubt as to what answer to give, but a little girl of nine, the eldest of several brothers and sisters, came promptly to his aid.

"Please, sir," she said, smartly, "there was nobody to nuss him!"

"What under the canopy do you mean by that, Clara?" asked Mrs. Gratebar.

"Well, the doctor said debilitated," said Clara, "but father says we mustn't say Bill, we must always say William."—N. Y. Sun.

LONG GLOVES.

Economy In Long Gloves—A Dutch Lady's Plan.

Now that short sleeves and long gloves are again in vogue for daylight wear luncheon often involves an exposure of the arms to which women object who are accustomed to appearing in full or demi toilet only under the protecting veil of gaslight.

Fashionable women simply pull forward the glove, extricate the fingers, push the glove back up the arm again and tuck the hand part of the glove inside that portion that is above the wrist. This is ingenious, but not nearly so convenient and economical as the plan adopted by a lady in Holland. Her long cream colored suede gloves reached well above the elbows, but she only had to remove the portion that covered the hands and wrists. These, the gloves proper, were quite separate from the long arm covering. After luncheon she replaced her gloves, tucked them up under the suede of the long arm pieces and covered the junction with many bracelets. Now we all know that the glove part wears out very quickly, while the rest is perfectly fresh and uninjured, so that the Dutch lady's is a very economical plan. Why should we not adopt it? One long pair of gloves costs double the price of a pair with four buttons, and the upper part would outlast several hand coverings. Evening gloves of the usual length cost between $3 and $4 a pair, and if they are light and delicate in tint, as they usually are, can be worn but once. Fresh gloves and neat shoes are a more essential part of evening toilet than the gown itself, and cleaned gloves are always so obvious as being cleaned that they are not a safe economy.

A sketch is given of a bodice of straw taffeta. A wide insertion of rich lace is arranged to simulate a yoke. The back of the bodice and the lower part of the front are veiled with mousseline de soie, and under the bust are placed two large knots of mousseline, with lace trimmed ends. The balloon elbow sleeves are also covered with mousseline de soie. The collar is composed of ribbon and two lace choux. This blouse is worn with a skirt of black taffeta.

VARIOUS NOTES.

What Kind of Veils to Wear—Grasscloth and Duck.

Brown gossamer veils are said to protect the complexion better than any other kind. Blue veils give the wearer a cadaverous look, and red ones are not good form. White and black are the most becoming and are always in style.

Drill, duck and holland have had a great vogue this summer, and it is to be hoped will be worn another year, they are so serviceable and neat.

Navy blue serge, which is perennially fashionable, is much employed by ladies' tailors for seaside, golfing and bicycling suits as well as for general plain wear.

Now that the season of linen gowns is passing it is confessed that linen as a dress material is not entirely satisfactory. It is enticing in the piece, but it loses freshness even in the making up, and mist or dampness of any sort reduces it to an unpardonable stringiness. To look well it requires to be laundered before each wearing, and laundered by an expert at that, while cheap cotton cambrics and lawns may be worn a number of times without showing damage.

Grasscloth, so much worn during the summer, is also with us this fall. It is plain, or has a colored spot or check, or is embroidered, although in the latter case it is much more expensive and really less attractive. The charm of this coarse material lies in its simplicity, and if expense and elaboration are desired they are more appropriate in connection with some finer sort of goods.

After a winter as long and severe as the last the approach of cold weather again is not as welcome as it sometimes is. Autumn and early winter fashions, now announced, strike a chill to the heart, and one would rather retain longer the filmy summer gowns that have been so charming a characteristic of the departing season.

An illustration is given of a fashionable and elaborate cape. It is composed of a yoke embroidered with spangles, from which falls a flounce of tulle embroidered with jet. At the head of this is a full drapery of gauze held in place with ostrich tips. Two frills of tulle sustained by tips form the flaring collar.

Silence is the element in which great things fashion themselves together, that at length they may emerge, full formed and majestic, into the delight of life, which they are thenceforth to rule.—Carlyle.

Electricity Kills Weeds.

Weeds along railroad tracks are now killed by the "electric weed-killer." It consists of a car carrying a dynamo, which sends a heavy current into a sort of rake of fine wires dragging among the weeds on each side of the track. As the wires touch them the weeds are "electrocuted" down to their smallest rootlets. It is proposed to introduce the same system in farming.

THURSDAY, FRIDAY & SATURDAY

We Show The . . OLIVER STIFF HATS!

It is well known to the most of us that the Miller, Knox, Dunlap and Youman agencies are distributed in all the principal cities throughout the United States. All these well known makes of hats retail at $5.00 each and at no less. The well dressed man always likes the best and correct shapes, but oftentimes dislikes to pay $5.00 for a hat, that can only be worn about three months, or one season, when a new shape comes out. In the OLIVER we have provided for those who want absolutely the correct shape at a nominal price. We have selected two popular blocks which seem to be the most in favor in the western cities--the Dunlap and Knox. As an introduction the Oliver is made an exact duplicate of the Dunlap and the Knox. The trimmings are identical, sweat and hat bands positively the same as the original, block or shape absolutely the correct one. The quality although not quite as fine is the same stock as used in all the hats usually sold in hat departments at $3.50 and by exclusive hatters in the city at $4.00.

The OLIVER We Furnish At $3.00.

And is sold with the positive guarantee that it is the correct shape and will give satisfaction to the wearer or money refunded. Why shouldn't you wear the proper block and save the extra $2.00. There are many hats on the market that are called the precise shapes of the Knox, Dunlap, etc., but were a comparison to be made with the original would be found to be different materially. The Oliver is an exact duplicate. We shall be pleased to show it to you.

Grand Opening, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.
